

Health Ambassador Program

About:

As a Health Ambassador, you will engage and educate residents of Columbus' South Side on healthy lifestyles and local programs and services that promote health and well-being. As a South Side resident yourself, you will provide valuable information to your community that increases their awareness and use of local resources available in the South Side. This includes food assistance programs, recreation and fitness centers, exercise programs, healthcare, and other critical resources.

The Details:

- The Health Ambassador Program will run from October – December 2022.
- Health Ambassadors are expected to contribute 8-10 hours per month to fulfill deliverables in outreach and engagement.
- After training, Health Ambassadors will engage South Side residents through one-to-one conversations, group presentations, and participation in community events to conduct outreach.
- Health Ambassadors will be compensated up to $450 for successfully engaging and educating community members.

Applications:

If you are interested in being a Health Ambassador in the South Side, please complete this short application before September 21, 2022. Apply at: <https://forms.gle/Lp2rwppTB9dQxXkn9>

Questions? Call us at 614-722-6539 or e-mail us at Sarah.Lenkay@NationwideChildrens.org

About South Side Thrive Collaborative:

South Side Thrive Collaborative is a place-based collective impact initiative committed to ensuring all residents of Columbus' South Side live healthy, fulfilling lives. We convene a network of health and human service organizations, businesses, and civic groups to improve the overall quality of life in the South Side of Columbus. Building off our mission, the Living Well in the South Side initiative was created to support the connection of residents in South Side to resources that help them live healthier lives.